The cohort was then followed during phase II, which spanned the age range from 5 years through 7.5 years old. We followed 204 meth-exposed and 208 comparison children since birth.

Thank you so much for your comment Christy. I'm really sorry that it has taken us so long to get back to you.

Well, it is really quite interesting.

This is great for static moves, but spinning will be difficult or impossible until the product wears off.

She also believes the "philidor overhang" can still not be ignored altogether.
